WILL UNCLE SAM PERMIT IT?
 The gratifying news comes from Texas that the managers of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight have metropolisly thrown up their hands to the Texas authorities. Gov. Culberson settled the matter by telling the Dallas County Sheriff to shoot if necessary. The thugs do not fancy facing Winchesters with Texas behind them and have concluded that Texas soil is not suitable for prize rings.

As the first newspaper to make a vigorous protest against the proposition to bring Texas into discredit by making it the rendezvous of prize-fighters and blacklegs, the Post-Dispatch applauds the vigor of the Texas authorities and congratulates the Texas people. The conclusion of the affair is honorable to the State and will enhance its reputation among decent people everywhere.
 But the fight against pugilism is not yet closed. It is announced that the prize-fighters and their gang will slip into Indian Territory and hold the stipulated match there. What have the United States authorities to say to this proposition? Is Indian Territory to be made the convenient resort of the prize-fighting fraternity now that the States are closed against them? Are the Indians to be taught the ways of civilization by slugfests, brawls and blackguards?
 Indian Territory is bad enough now. It is the last refuge of desperadoes, and if it is to be turned into a resort of pugilists it will be well to try to civilize the Indians and fence off the Territory as a dumping place for the scum of the country.

STEAMSHIP QUAY.
 No one who has read the proceedings of the Pennsylvania Republican Convention can longer doubt the statesmanship of Senator Quay. Quay is a wise, prudent, soberer of public funds and distributor of slush has never been doubted since he has become known in public life. Everybody knew that Matt Quay was a slick politician, but few suspected that the germ of statesmanship was budding in his bosom. The bud has blossomed. The evolution of a slick politician into a smooth statesman is complete.
 The embryonic Quay was fully capable of doing the slick work which turned an anti-Quay convention into a Quay convention and converted a revolutionary faction in open revolt against Quay into an enthusiastic Quay phalanx. But he was not satisfied with that. He could not content himself with a love feast and a division of the spoils.
 The new Quay is a bigger man. He has learned the advantage of having a good character and a high purpose. Instead of permitting his victory to be degraded into a mere gluttonous spoils feast, he has gloried in the triumph of money, the growing power of corporations and the pernicious activity of officials in politics, and demanding that all of these vicious things be stopped. Corporations must be made to pay for their privileges and obey the laws, and public employees must be protected from assessments by unscrupulous bosses.
 One can imagine the real horror of Matt

Quay and the Republican party of Pennsylvania. If the people should take this platform seriously and drive corporations and slush funds and perniciously active, not to say thieving, officials out of politics. But Senator Quay has provided for that. He has had himself elected Chairman of the State Committee, and while he holds that position it matters not what the platform is. Reform may perch on the banner and be swung on the outer walls, but it will never get into camp.
 That's statesmanship. If you don't believe it, ask Gorman, or Platt, or Hill, or Brice, or any of our great statesmen.

ST. LOUIS MILK PROBLEM.
 New York and Chicago have begun a hot war against adulterated milk. New York has appointed five additional inspectors, to act during the four months when their extra services will be most in demand. The Chicago Health Commissioner has filed charges in the office of the Prosecuting Attorney against ninety-three milk dealers, whose milk or cream had been examined by the City Chemist and found wanting. It is time for St. Louis to exercise herself to an effort to solve this problem, which is as pressing here as in any of the large cities.

It would be too much to say that no pure and absolutely wholesome milk is sold in St. Louis under present conditions, but there is no doubt that the proportion of the milk sold is impure. The thousands who are forced to lunch at downtown restaurants are compelled to drink milk which has more dirt in suspension than cream. Disease is rife among the dairy cows, probably owing to filthy and unwholesome conditions under which they are kept. Diphtheria and other bacterial diseases among children have been more than usually prevalent this summer, and could probably have been traced to bad milk if any inspection had been made. It is one of the most perplexing problems of the housekeeper, even in the suburbs, how to get milk which is fit to give to children; and happy is that housewife who can find a cow-stable neighbor with milk to spare that can be relied upon.

All this in spite of the fact that the city ordinances make full provision against milk adulteration, with powers for milk inspection and penalties which would certainly abate the evil if enforced. It is disgraceful that for the sale of money this law, framed for the punishment of a despicable misdemeanor and in the interest of childhood, should be a dead letter.
 The health of the people should be protected at any cost. The milk inspection law must be enforced.

OUR MONEY-BAG ARISTOCRACY.
 We have reached the last stage of progress in the prevailing mode of civilization. The Vanderbilt ball proves that we have the finished product in the form of a so-called upper class.

The ball was given by a divorced woman in honor of the son of a divorced woman and descendant of a long line of degenerate sires who have fattened on the toll of others. It was supposed to foreshadow the union of the sprig of degenerate nobility with the daughter of a bankrupt money-bag.
 The money-bag aristocracy was out in full force and were entertained with a vulgar gorgefulness worthy of their class. They danced in a million-dollar house and feasted on thousand-dollar dishes. They were bedecked with diamonds and were smothered in decorations. They showed the chief ends of an aristocracy of wealth by vying with each other in wanton extravagance and garish display.

All of this would be merely laughable absurdity if there were not a serious side to it. Who made "the revenue of a province" which Mrs. Vanderbilt expended on her ball and the millions which will be bestowed on the young Duke of Marlborough? Certainly not her husband or his father or grandfather. Everybody knows how Commodore Vanderbilt accumulated his wealth and how most of the millions represented at the ball were accumulated. They are the coined sweat of honest men, fished from them by deals and combinations and stolen privileges.
 Is it a question how long the tolling, thinking people of this country who earn their living by honest work will stand the costly burden of a vulgar aristocracy who accumulate their luxurious surplus by oppression and robbery under the forms of law?

FUN FOR ILLINOIS.
 Gov. Altgeld of Illinois has been treated to a half-column scorching by the local Wall Street organ for the appointment of Representative Le Crone to the office of Secretary of the State Live Stock Commission.

The organ quotes and learnedly discusses the clause in the Illinois Constitution forbidding the Governor and Senate or the General Assembly to give a civil appointment to any member of the General Assembly during the term for which he was elected. It calls attention to Mr. Le Crone's support of the Governor in the last session of the Legislature and plainly intimates that the appointment is a scandalous reward for political service, and anathematizes the Governor, declaring that "Illinois has never witnessed a more flagrant defiance of law than is involved in this appointment or a more open prostitution of the appointing power to selfish personal ends."

While admiring the zeal for the constitution of Illinois which prompts the scathing denunciation of its violation, the interest of truth and justice impel the Post-Dispatch to extract its sting. Gov. Altgeld didn't do it. He was absent when the appointment was made and had nothing to do with it. The Secretary of the Live Stock Commission is a clerk of the Board, was appointed by the Board and serves at its will.
 We hope, however, that the mere fact that there was no foundation for his charge will not keep our contemporary from continuing his fiery comments on things that do not happen in Illinois. Nothing so much contributes to the gayety of the Illinois people.

While it looks as if the Georgia minister who turned infidel, and whose tongue was paralyzed, may have been punished for backsliding—or downsliding—there should be a scientific investigation. It is possible that he may have been one of those ceaseless talkers who are ever seeking a gabfest, and his organ may have been overstrained. Every masculine talker should remember that it is no feminine tongue he is using, and that his tongue should be on the sex that is at least adapted to them.

The only certain way to prevent the substitution of inferior or improper drugs is to give the doctors an apothecary's training and require them to carry the medicines they administer. Still, let us hope that the present movement of the physicians against substitutes will result in some improvement.

McLean County, Ill., where resolutions against the Illinois school law have been passed, is a hot-bed of Republicanism. But there is really no reason why even a Republican community should not speak up against flagrant and professional patriotism. It has become wearisome to the sensible people of all parties.

Physicians who have denounced the bicycle are confronted with the statement that the wheel has caused a reduction of 700,000,000 in the consumption of cigars. Those doctors at least who believe in the fatality of tobacco will doubtless give the bicycle the credit due on these clear statistics.

It is charged that the officials of the Union Pacific Railroad are in a syndicate to freeze out Western coal mining industries and themselves reap the benefit of the monopoly thus formed. This is only one more evidence of the importance of keeping a watch on ambitious railroad men.

That Georgia infidel minister, by hard praying and through the prayers of a Christian congregation, has recovered the use of his paralyzed tongue, and will hereafter preach nothing but the Gospel. This is doubtless the most striking incident of the revival season.

There has been another bicycle bloomers marriage. No doubt these marriages will rapidly increase in number as soon as the magistrates and clergymen shall have learned to readily distinguish which is bride and which is groom.

Twenty hoodlums in the New Orleans City Council got $37,400 for extending a franchise. It would be interesting to know just what all the franchisees thus bought in American cities have cost.

The Kentucky Democratic address should have been issued before Dick Knott bolted. If Knott represents the gold-bug sentiment, where can the proposed harmony come in?

It is perfectly proper for Gen. Noble or any other American citizen to give financial advice. Nobody is obliged to be silent when the country is in the midst of a financial gabfest.

The attention of Lecturer Ingersoll is respectfully called to the case of the Methodist preacher in Georgia who turned infidel and whose tongue has since been paralyzed.

Every citizen of St. Louis with the public interest at heart wants to see a new bridge and a free one, but hardly anyone has yet forgotten the story of the Merchants' Bridge.

It seems that Col. Dick Dalton is trying to straddle the money question. This is bad policy in a candidate for Governor. No straddler will be elected in Missouri next year.

The pugilist's "duke" is not more effective in knocking out opposition than Mrs. Vanderbilt's. The lady knew very well how society would act with a title to toady to.

What a pity that while Mr. Olney was Attorney-General there was not a Monroe doctrine applying to trusts. His present zeal naturally excites such a regret.

Clear and Strong.
 From the Mexico Intelligence.
 There is some contention as to who wrote the Pertle Springs platform. No matter who wrote it, the work was well done. It is the clearest and strongest declaration of principle and comes nearer reality than the platform of the Democrats of Missouri than any platform adopted in this State in a decade.

Get Into the Wagon.
 From the Farmington Times.
 If Chairman Moffitt and his crowd want to keep up with the Democratic procession in this State, they would better shut off their discordant notes and climb into the silver band wagon.

WELL-KNOWN ST. LOUISANS.

Alvah Mansur.
 Alvah Mansur, the native of Massachusetts. He was educated in the East and came West to Illinois, where he married. He engaged in the hardware business in Davenport, Io. He spent several years mining in Colorado and was elected a member of the Legislature. Twenty-five years ago he went to Kansas City and established the firm of Mansur & Co., out of which grew the big local firm of Deers, Mansur & Co., since changed to Mansur & Tebbetts.

When Jenny Rode to Mill With Me.
 From the Chicago Times-Herald.
 When Jenny rode to mill with me
 The daisies bared their bosoms;
 The spring winds ruffled every tree
 And stirred a storm of blossoms.

The squirrels scampered from the hedge,
 The crows were in the clover;
 The little ruffled birds were round me
 And dusty doves flew over.

The white road seemed to welcome us,
 By shaken dewdrops dented;
 The groves with songs were tremulous,
 By lonely violets scented.

The mad wind seemed to envy all
 The curls beneath her bonnet,
 And let the dew-drenched blossoms fall
 In twinkling showers on it.

How well the way old Milton knew
 In all the springtime weather;
 His back was broad enough for two,
 And Jenny rode to mill with me.

BLOWN UP AT SEA.

Story of the Loss of the Private Yacht of Gen. Campos.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Special correspondence of the World from Havana, Aug. 24, says:

There is a rumor that the Spanish steamer Villa Verde, chartered by Gen. Campos as his private yacht, has been blown up at sea.

She went from here to New York ostensibly to go into a dry dock to be cleaned and painted. She left New York on the 12th inst. and was given out that she came here simply to be repainted. It is said that she has been on board a ton of dynamite being used by her captain for the purpose of blowing up the insurgents. It is this dynamite which exploded at terrific force, as the story goes, scattering the ship into fragments.

The Villa Verde belongs to the Spanish Transatlantic Line and is chartered by Captain General Campos for his personal use during the campaign in Cuba.

She arrived here Aug. 18 from Havana and went into Yory dock in the Erie basin, where her hull was scraped, some paint was put on and she received some minor repairs. She sailed on the 20th inst. and was given out that she came here simply to be repainted. It is said that she has been on board a ton of dynamite being used by her captain for the purpose of blowing up the insurgents. It is this dynamite which exploded at terrific force, as the story goes, scattering the ship into fragments.

A story got abroad that when Gen. Campos was in the city he had been seen in the vicinity of the Villa Verde and was told that she arrived in Havana on the 23d, but there seemed to be a discrepancy in the date. The arrival of the vessel there is not reported by the maritime register up to Aug. 25.

LANDED IN CUBA.

An Expedition From the United States to Aid the Insurgents.
NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The World says: Another expedition has landed in Cuba near Santiago. The news was received yesterday at the headquarters in this city, and even after midnight dispatches about it were still coming in.

Although many expeditions have gone to Cuba since the outbreak of the revolution, this is considered an event of some importance because of the special force of Cuban patriots who are supposed to be in the party. The expedition is said to be distributed throughout the island.

The expedition left Philadelphia on Wednesday last. It was composed of a steamer bought by the revolutionary party in this city. It was commanded by Francisco, a native of Cuba, and was accompanied by a large supply of medicine and provisions. The ship was named the "Barceloneta" and was commanded by Don Antonio Maceo's forces.

The Quincy Club arrived at 8:30 a. m. Thursday. They go out to the lake to-day in charge of W. G. Arendt, who is attending to all arrangements. The Quincy Club is composed of a sturdy lot of young men, who will be dangerous contestants in the junior large race. This will be the greatest race ever held in St. Louis. Never before has there been a large race with as many entries as this one.

The sports will begin promptly at 9 o'clock and the following will act as officers of the day:

Jul. Rapp of the St. Louis Club, referee. Mr. Rapp selected as referee for the regatta of the Centrals as starter.

Jacob Roth, president of the Quincy Club, judge at the turn, and George L. Van Bank of the North End judge at the finish.

The clubs nominated the following judges: St. Louis—C. J. Schneider, John Wallrapp. Mound City—J. H. Jeter, John Wallrapp. Centrals—H. Fetsch, Nick Hoerner. North End—Ed Woodward, J. A. Sutter. Quincy—Bert Ryan, Charles Abbott.

GOSSIP FOR TURFITES.

Dan Honig Is Negotiating for the Services of Garner's Younger Brother.

Jockey Garner, Dan Honig's clever light weight rider, had piloted twenty-three winners at the Fair Grounds from July 27 up to Thursday. Besides his regular engagement with Honig, Garner, who is regularly known as the "Cash" rider, has more regular followers than any rider now in the saddle. The great Fred Talar, and he says Talar could not begin to ride as well as Garner when he was as young as the latter is now.

"All Talar knew when he was Garner's age," said Honig, "was to get in front and make every post a winning one. Garner, however, in addition to being able to get off well, is a heady little horseman. He understands how to ride according to instructions. It is a good good of pace, and as much as much as a horse as any light weight I have ever seen in the saddle. Talar's great success, in my estimation, has been due to the fact that he always rides to win. The public and his employers have always had confidence in his honesty, and I am trying to make the same reputation for Garner."

Mr. Honig sent $300 to Garner's father the other day, and he is now negotiating for the services of the boy's younger brother, who is 14 years old.

Col. John G. Taylor's great pacer Joe Patchen went to pieces completely in the $500 race at Flosswood Park, New York, Thursday, and finished last. The horse beats. Robert J. won the race in straight heats, while John R. Gentry took the place money from Maseo. Joe Patchen was the opening favorite at 4 to 1. "VIOLET'S DREAM."

Two Young Lawyers Walk from St. Louis to Springfield, Mo.

Chas. E. Wise and Frank Haskins, the young attorneys who tramped from St. Louis to Springfield, Mo., a distance of nearly 200 miles, returned to the city and resumed business as if they had not worn out shoes and clothes and sweated out sixteen pounds of flesh on their vacation.

When Messrs. Wise and Haskins got off the train from Springfield and entered Union Station Monday night they saw several friends, but did not receive a single word of welcome. They grumbled and weather-beaten looking suits gave them a disconcerting aspect that is rare in these modern days.

They left St. Louis Aug. 11 and reached Springfield Aug. 12. Mr. Will Carr, an attorney, was one of the party, but business compelled him to return from Springfield. When Wise and Haskins left St. Louis they weighed 145 pounds each. They carried just 14 pounds into Springfield.

Their trip was not marked by any hair-breadth escapes from border ruffians, but they were constantly harassed for saving revenue agents in the Quarles, and were refused board and shelter at many a farm house. The outcasts were given the bare necessities, consisting of gun, revolver, cartridge belt and knife, and were safe passage through the mountains.

Offers of money for a meal or a night's shelter were often made on a walking excursion from St. Louis to Springfield. The answer that they were on a walking excursion seemed too ridiculous to be credited for a moment. The mountains seemed to be Government officers. Denials were of no avail.

Despite many hardships and privations, the two boys were not obliged to sleep on the mountain sides, at any time, for although they were on several occasions refused board or five successive farm-houses, they found a hospitable roof at last.

The mediae taken by the two tramps were not quite a La Fontaine. Fat pork, swimming in grease, black-braised corn, and string beans and cornbread was the bill of fare whenever they put up at a farm-house or stopped for the night. Several times they found fish in the mountain streams and found relief in the piscatorial dishes and an occasional squirrel from the inevitable pork.

From Houston to Hartsville they crossed the Big Piney River at a mill-race and were almost drowned. They were nearly killed by a wooden dam, inclining toward the stone retaining wall, and they were nearly killed by the boards were slippery and Wise and Haskins slipped into the river several times. They saved themselves by catching hold of the wall.

Two days were spent at Springfield before the ride home was begun. Mr. Wise and Mr. Haskins gained flesh rapidly after reaching Springfield and are now they are above the 100-pound mark.

TWO BOYS AND A DOG.

The Combination Makes the Canine's Owner Quite Unhappy.

Prof. John W. Spargo of 633 Clifton avenue, first assistant at the St. Louis High School, has a magnificent canine and to it is strongly attached, therefore his heart bleeds daily as he witnesses the excruciating inquisition the poor brute undergoes. According to Mr. Spargo the dog's life is rendered miserable by two small boys, Jess Branch and Ross Halket, who live at 633 Clifton avenue. For over a year these boys have fantasized and tortured the dog in the diverse and ingenious manner of young Americans.

Every time he comes down the road the boys pour forth a fusillade of rocks and bricks and if he is late they "kick" him with sticks, between the cracks of the fence. When he has a paring throat or a voracious appetite they will pull the dog and water just beyond his reach and often they suspend him by his collar from a picket fence. Dark nights they nearly scare the poor dog to death and the tin cans to his ears at every opportunity.

Mr. Spargo has stood to see the poor beast suffer as long as he can and yesterday applied for a warrant against the boys. It was not issued but the "Professor" was referred to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Over a year Prof. Spargo made complaint against the boys to Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Eatep and that stopped the dog for awhile. It was resumed during the dog days.

MRS. ROBERTS PROTESTS.

She Objects to Col. McDonald Making Her a Scape-Goat.

Mrs. W. L. Roberts, whose husband has been brought into the Col. R. McDonald-Louise Watkins controversy, has written the following letter under date of Aug. 29: To the Editor of The Post-Dispatch.

I beg you to do me the justice to correct certain misstatements which appear in my self which appear in your local columns of this date, under the heading "To Pull Her Hair." As far as the facts are concerned, your report was misinformed and the statements are pure invention, without any foundation whatever in fact. I am not a member of the so-called Miss Barber. At present I know nothing of any relations between Mrs. Watkins and her husband, and in view of his and my circumstances, I can say nothing. The relations of myself and husband do not pertain in any way to the relations of Col. McDonald and Mrs. Watkins. It may be said that I am a party to his Watkins' fight to create a diversion by dragging the troubles of myself, a defenseless woman, into the controversy, ever while I am willing to bear my own troubles with what resignation I may, I must protest against my being made a scapegoat for the McDonald-Watkins affair. Letter in the Post-Dispatch, page 1, Very truly, MRS. W. L. ROBERTS.

Man Named Johnson Kicks.

Some one named Johnson, living at 3806 Arsenal, has sent a communication to the Board of Public Improvements asking to know by what right the Union Depot Railway Company's tracks spread out to the side of the street on Arsenal between Spring and King's Highway, and especially in front of the building known as the middle of the street. The Board has no record of any authority and has no control over the matter. Secretary Foster says he will answer the letter when he is able to decipher the writer's name and initials.

John H. West Discharged.

John H. West of 435 Kossuth avenue, who shot and killed William F. Potter of 234 Marquette in a saloon at 438 Lee avenue, Saturday, Aug. 2, was discharged in the Court of Criminal Correction Friday. West pleaded self defense. He was accused of manslaughter in the third degree.

NEW SCHOOL Outfits!

It has been the custom in St. Louis to keep prices up at the beginning of the season and to drop the price as the demand falls away. To revolutionize this custom we will make low prices to begin with and make numerous sales to make up for it.

BOYS' SCHOOL SUITS.

Every boy wants to start the school year in a new outfit. He'll work better and feel better. We will begin with the KINDERGARTEN 3 to 6 Years.

We have the prettiest and slickest line of Junior Suits, Jerseys, Zouaves and Reefers, for the little chaps. Best line we ever had. All kinds of good material, every kind of fancy shape and trimming. Prices almost nothing. All the way from $1.68 to $3.50

PRIMARY SCHOOL 6 to 9 Years.

Good solid clothes, Knee-Pant Suits, double seats and knees. Buttons won't come off. Strictly All-Wool Suits, in Cheviot, Cassimere and Fancy Mixtures. Don't cost so much either— $2.00 to $4.50

GRAMMAR SCHOOL 10 to 14 Years.

These are also Knee Pant Suits, double seats and knees. Also an extra line of elegant all-wool Pants, the dollar kind, at 30 cents. These Suits are strong and reliable, to satisfy the active, restless age for which they are made. $2.50 to $5.00

HIGH SCHOOL 15 to 19 Years.

A boy becomes very particular at this age, and we have selected these Long Pant Suits with special care. In the lot is a very fine grade at $5.00 which is worth buying right along. Prices in these Suits range from $3.50 to $10

even now it gave her a sort of pang to think of the case with all its possibilities. It was a fright indeed! How long was this? Oh! it could not be true, she thought. But she was not alone on shore—where?—anywhere! Impelled out of the question—with the English ing, with the race, bar accidents, a case for her.

"No, not my dear Lady Harpenden, that is the last thing I shall do, I shall go down in Myadale's cabin."

But a veil may be drawn over this sort of thing, and the fact is that not only did Lady Harpenden make (which there is no doubt she will keep to her foot on horse, a racing accident) but her disastrous voyage put her in the hands of the doctor who had been at Bertie Bethune next day in the St. George's and would not have taken it to heart had she heard that it was she, and "that dreadful young man, Mr. Mibt," had gone "to the bottom of the town" in the Butterfly with her on board, the next time they raced near Dover Works.
